ULTRASOUND

During the course of your pregnancy, your physician will order ultrasound scans to follow your pregnancy care. At your first appointment with the physician, you will receive an ultrasound to confirm your due date. When your pregnancy reaches 22 weeks, you will be scheduled for a full fetal survey ultrasound which is done by the ultrasound tech at our office. This image will show us what position the fetus is in, the heart rate, verifying size and dates, checking the fetus's organs to make sure everything is doing fine and determine sex if you would like to know. Sometimes we are unable to verify sex of the child when the child is not in the right position. This 22 week ultrasound is not part of the global package fee.

You may be asked by the physician to have extra ultrasound scans if you are having a complicated pregnancy and the extra scans are not part of the global package. We will bill your insurance company for this. Any balance after insurance payment will be your responsibility.

If you would like a 3-D ultrasound image at around 30 to 33 weeks, there will be an extra charge of $5 cash for the disk.

Should you have any questions regarding ultrasound during pregnancy, please talk to the doctor at your next visit.
